Replacement of Electronic Plan Lodgement System

Over the last 18 months Land Services SA has in various Industry forums advised of the impending replacement of the Electronic Plan Lodgement (EPL) System to increase supportability and address future security requirements.

The development of the replacement system as part of the South Australian Integrated Land Information System (SAILIS) is well advanced, and this new module, to be known as Digital Plan Lodgement (DPL), will include the following functional improvements:

- Single login for SAILIS / DPL users
- Allocation of the Plan Number at plan creation
- Population of existing SAILIS data including easements on titles
- Flexibility to alter the Plan Header
- Generation of the DWG Extract from the Users Dashboard
- Support for all Community and Strata Plan Amendments and Strata Conversions
- Bulk upload (CSV file) of Certificate of Title references

The functional change to generate a plan number before lodgement will require all plans in draft status within the existing EPL system to be issued a plan number during migration into the new DPL system. As such, to ensure that only plans likely to be lodged in the foreseeable future are allocated plan numbers, and to avoid organisations having to clean up their historical draft plans dating back to 2010, the decision has been made in consultation with Industry to only migrate plans with a draft status created on or after 1 January 2024.

In preparation for the release of the new DPL system, currently scheduled for March 2024, LSSA will be updating the LSSA Internet Website (<https://www.landservices.com.au>) in early 2024 to provide more detail on the DPL system, including Frequently Asked Questions, videos and information on proposed training sessions.

Once testing of the DPL system has commenced and the release date of the new DPL system is confirmed, Industry will be advised of the timing of the changeover to DPL and the impact on EPL access during implementation of the new system.

In the meantime if you have any queries regarding the replacement of EPL, or any matters raised in this CIB, please direct your enquiry to Land Services SA Customer Support on 8423 5000 (Toll free on 1800 648 176) or via e-mail dplenquiries@landservices.com.au
